

Dear Sir/Madam

I am writing to strongly recommend that the Container Deposit Scheme introduced to WA be an automated supermarket "point of sale" one as they have in the Netherlands. Having lived there for a couple of years, I found them easy, intuitive, convenient and financially worthwhile. Point of sale returns work well as people are going to the supermarket anyway. This will ensure maximal uptake of the scheme and minimal waste of time and fossil fuels with unnecessary journeys to a separate recycling facility.

I have attached a few links for you that I found on the internet demonstrating how it works.
