Elder Abuse Helpline

If you or someone you know is experiencing elder abuse, or has a question about elder abuse, please call the Elder Abuse Helpline on 1300 724 679 for a confidential discussion.

Acknowledgement of Country

The Western Australian Government proudly acknowledges the Traditional Owners and recognises their continuing connection to their lands, families and communities. We pay our respects to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and to Elders past, present and emerging.

The first step in living alongside and working with the Aboriginal community is built upon establishing respectful relationships. Crucial to these respectful relationships is acknowledging the history of Aboriginal people and recognising the importance of connection to family, culture and country.

Hon Don Punch MLA
Minister for Seniors and Ageing

Minister's Message

The WA Strategy to Respond to the Abuse of Older People (Elder Abuse) 2019-2029 (the Strategy) was released in November 2019. Since its release, significant progress has been made to achieve the Strategy's goal of ensuring all older Western Australians are safe, respected, valued and live free from elder abuse.

Elder abuse is a complex social, health and human rights issue. It also has profound effects on victims, their families and the broader community. The abuse of older people takes many forms, including financial, psychological, physical, sexual and emotional abuse.

The COVID-19 pandemic has seen older people at greater risk of experiencing loneliness and social isolation, which in turn increases the susceptibility of seniors to elder abuse.

As the Minister for Seniors and Ageing, I am working hard to address these challenges and to confront the abuse of older people in Western Australia. It is necessary to continue working together to identify and respond to elder abuse in the community.

The Progress Report, together with the Strategy, show the work being done by the McGowan State Government, the community services sector and private sector to address and prevent elder abuse. It will be updated every two years to ensure the Strategy's outcomes are achieved. This also ensures future actions are responsive to new challenges, opportunities, priorities, and emerging evidence.

The Progress Report outlines the key work being done through this period. The learnings from this work will inform future updates to the associated Action Plan.

I acknowledge the strong, continuing collaboration and partnership government has with the community services sector, private sector and wider community in working to eliminate elder abuse from our communities. I commend all involved on their contribution and collective effort to safeguard and promote the health and wellbeing of older Western Australians.

Introduction

The WA Strategy to Respond to the Abuse of Older people (Elder Abuse) 2019-2029 (the Strategy) guides whole of community action to prevent and address elder abuse. Its goal is to ensure that all older Western Australians live free from elder abuse, are safe, respected and valued.

The Strategy's implementation through to 2029 will be supported by Action Plans. These Plans will be updated every two years to effectively respond to outcomes achieved, new challenges, opportunities, priorities, and emerging evidence.

The Action Plans will encapsulate the activities that will be undertaken by a range of stakeholders. Action Plans will align with the Strategy's four priority areas, anticipated outcomes and strategies: a single action is likely to deliver on multiple strategies. Furthermore, the Action Plans will be underpinned by the Strategy's principles:

1. Dignity, autonomy and freedom from abuse are human rights.
2. All older Western Australians are entitled to be equally valued and respected regardless of race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, religion or impairment.
3. All responses to elder abuse prioritise the safety, wellbeing, dignity and autonomy of all older Western Australians, regardless of where they reside.
4. An older person's choices and preferences are fundamental and should be respected.
5. Responses empower older people to make informed choices and decisions about their future.
6. Responses to elder abuse are evidence informed, outcomes focused, best practice and person centred.
7. Preventing and addressing elder abuse is everyone's responsibility.

Influences on the Strategy's implementation

Elder abuse remains a significant issue with growing momentum for action. The WA government is committed to ensure the Strategy's implementation is informed by the collective work done to understand and prevent elder abuse. Most notably, the 'WA Legislative Council Select Committee Inquiry into Elder Abuse 2018', the 'Royal Commission into Violence, Abuse, Neglect and Exploitation of People with Disability' and, the 'Royal Commission into Aged Care Quality and Safety'.

The Strategy's implementation also supports the delivery of the State Government's Stopping Family and Domestic Violence policy. The Path to Safety Western Australia's strategy to reduce family and domestic violence 2020-2030 sets out a whole-of-government and community plan for reducing and responding to family and domestic violence in Western Australia.

Collaboration with the Commonwealth Government and, other State and Territory Governments, is underway to support the implementation of the National Plan to Respond to the Abuse of Older Australians (Elder Abuse) 2019-2023 – implementation is being coordinated by the Commonwealth Attorney-General's Department. Western Australia's responses to address elder abuse align with the National Plan's five priority areas. These are: enhancing our understanding, improving community awareness and access to information, strengthening service responses, planning for future decision making and strengthening safeguards for vulnerable older adults.

Older people are more vulnerable to the impacts of the COVID-19 Pandemic (COVID-19). It was anticipated older people would be at a greater risk to loneliness, social isolation, poor mental health and lower quality of life. Moreover, pre-existing risk factors for elder abuse were anticipated to become amplified due to COVID-19.

Our progress in delivering the Strategy

Summary of highlights

Since the launch of the Strategy in November 2019, the State Government has committed more than $6 million for elder abuse initiatives. Highlights include:

- $2.3 million to:
 - establish the first Vulnerable Seniors Peak in Western Australia;
 - continue the WA Elder Abuse Helpline and Information Service;
 - provide state-wide advocacy and legal services;
 - raise awareness and deliver education programs; and
 - undertake research into the prevalence of elder abuse and the mistreatment of older Aboriginal people in Western Australia.
- An additional $4 million to Legal Aid WA over four years to establish 'Elder Rights WA' to support seniors and combat elder abuse. The service will be delivered State-wide.

The specifics

During 2019-20, $2.3 million was allocated to address elder abuse. This enabled continued funding for the WA Elder Abuse Helpline and Information Service (delivered by Advocare), the delivery of state-wide advocacy and legal support services, and to initiate a range of inclusion, participation, education activities, elder abuse awareness resources and research.

Throughout 2019-2021, a key focus was on responding to COVID-19, consolidating the work already underway, and to broaden our knowledge and understanding to enhance responses that address elder abuse in Western Australia (WA). Learnings from the actions will inform the priority areas of work and delivery of future Action Plans.

Strong partnerships and leveraging the expertise of the community services sector and other government agencies play a critical role in realising the Strategy's long-term outcomes – this was especially relevant during COVID-19.

Under the WA Recovery Plan (COVID-19 Response) an additional $250,000 was provided to deliver the Age-friendly Communities Social Connectivity Grants Program 2020-21, and $180,000 to expand elder abuse support services, including education.

Key actions progressed since 2019 include:

- The Financial Elder Abuse Roundtable, co-hosted by Bankwest and the Department of Communities on 23 October 2019. The roundtable brought together WA's financial services, corporate, government and community sectors to raise awareness of the scale and impact of financial elder abuse and share best practice.
- The development of a National Register of Enduring Power of Attorney (Financial) to safeguard against financial abuse, led by Department of Justice, working with Landgate and the Commonwealth Government.
- Ongoing delivery of community education by the Office of the Public Advocate and the Public Trustee. Focus areas included: the proper making and operation of planning for the future documents (Enduring Powers of Attorney and Enduring Powers of Guardianship).
- Legal Aid WA continued delivery of the Seniors Rights and Advocacy Service, providing confidential legal services to older people experiencing elder abuse. The Service includes community legal education, and representation in certain guardianship and administration matters in the State Administrative Tribunal.

- To support prevention and early intervention, WA Police have increased education on elder abuse and the vulnerabilities in Police Recruit Training. This aligns with our key strategy ensuring professionals can recognise the signs of elder abuse.
- Commissioned research to grow the evidence base on elder abuse prevalence in WA, including a better understanding of the mistreatment of older Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. Our partners are the University of Western Australia and the Indigenous Professional Services Pty Ltd (IPS) Management Consultants.
- In response to COVID-19, expedited the establishment of a Vulnerable Seniors Peak Body. Delivered by the Council on the Ageing WA (COTA WA) the Peak advocates for and represents the interests of vulnerable older Western Australians. Opportunities to sustain a Peak Body are being explored.
- Continued delivery of the WA Elder Abuse Helpline and Information Service by Advocare. This ensures vital support, such as free, specialised advocacy and information services are accessible to older people.
- Expansion of the Older People's Rights Service (OPRS) operated by the Northern Suburbs Community Legal Centre to increase its reach across the Perth metropolitan area. OPRS is a critical elder abuse support service that providing free legal, social and educational assistance to older people. In response to COVID-19 the OPRS' hours of operation were extended between October 2020 to October 2021 to respond to a potential increase in elder abuse as a hidden impact of COVID-19.
- Funded the Northern Suburbs Community Legal Centre to deliver the Elder Abuse Peer Education Scheme over two years. The Scheme connects older volunteers to older people at risk of elder abuse, provides opportunities for connecting and participating in the community, and reduce ageism.
- Delivered a state-wide public awareness campaign on elder abuse awareness, positive ageing, and COVID-19 information at the end of 2020, led by COTA WA. The key campaign messages were developed in collaboration with the community sector.

Further action to support the safety and rights of older people from mid-2021

The McGowan Government:

- In July, dedicated $210,000 to the COTA WA to continue the Vulnerable Seniors Peak Body's representation and advocacy, and promotion of older people's wellbeing and rights.
- In August, allocated $12 million to re-establish the Seniors Safety and Security Rebate for WA Seniors Card members.

Communities continues to maintain inter-agency collaboration through active membership of the Alliance for the Prevention of Elder Abuse WA, promoting a whole-of-government policy framework, and an integrated and coordinated approach to address and prevent elder abuse.
