Hi

We're not too happy with the ban on plastic bags. We always use the plastic bags as bin liners for our rubbish. If these plastic bags are not available, how are we going to throw away our rubbish? Can someone just enlighten us as to whether we should just throw our rubbish into our kitchen bins and when it gets full just throw it into the big rubbish bins which the council provides.

If this is not feasible, then we also have to purchase these bags to line our bins. All this comes back to utilising plastic bags which we need to purchase ourselves. These plastic bags which you label them as "single use" is definitely not the right words as it gets "RECYCLED" by many families.

A definite "NO" vote from this household.

PS: Would appreciate an answer as to whether we just throw away our rubbish unbagged into the big council bins.
