A NATIVE BUSHLAND RETREAT FOR REFLECTION AND RECREATION

Pinnaroo Valley Memorial Park is widely considered to be Australia's most environmentally responsible cemetery. The park, since inception in 1978, has been developed and maintained as a natural bushland cemetery, planted with native species only, with flat bronze plaques to mark graves.

The natural environment of Pinnaroo provides a haven for many native birds and animals, including kangaroos. The grounds are a popular attraction for varied outdoor activities like walking and picnicking.

BURIALS AT PINNAROO

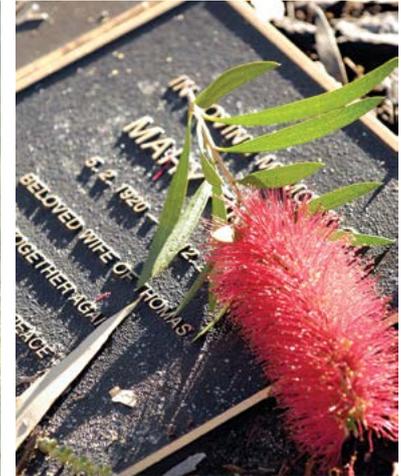

At Pinnaroo each grave may have a total of four interments – including burials and cremated remains. Up to three of the interments may be burials.

Many burials are preceded by a funeral service to commemorate the deceased. The Pinnaroo Chapels provide a beautiful setting for funeral services, particularly when inclement weather renders a graveside ceremony impractical. The chapel services may take place prior to proceeding to the burial site or after the burial if catering is required.

CREMATION AND CHAPEL FACILITIES

Cremation, the preferred choice for many families, is offered at Pinnaroo Valley Memorial Park. Most cremations are preceded by a funeral service held in one of Pinnaroo's comfortable chapels. The service culminates in the committal of the casket.

The East Chapel

The East Chapel accommodates 210 people, with seating for 118. Built from natural materials including limestone and timber, the chapel sits in complete harmony with its surroundings. The chapel is equipped with state of the art multimedia technology to provide a seamless service and includes a musicians gallery.

All multimedia submissions and enquiries should be directed to your Funeral Director PRIOR to the service.

Livestreaming is available in both chapels. Please consult with the Funeral Director to make arrangements.

MEMORIALS

Following cremation, many families establish a memorial – a lasting tribute to the departed – within the cemetery. The range of memorials available is as diverse and varied as the people being commemorated; from tree memorials through to a simple, small commemorative plaque that provides a place of focus for future generations to congregate, reflect and remember. For those who do not live close to Pinnaroo, memorial options are also available at Guildford and Midland Cemeteries.

For those not wishing to establish a memorial within the grounds, a selection of decorative urns and items for the storage of cremated remains is available and can be viewed at our Pinnaroo office.
