

My accounts on Housing Online

Help resource

My accounts displays all accounts and transactions for rent, water, repairs, tenant liability, bond assistance loans, former tenants accounts or other accounts you might have related to your housing assistance.

The balance of your accounts is displayed on the right side of the screen. If the amount is displayed without a minus sign in front (e.g. $20.00) it means your payments are up to date. If your balance appears in red with a negative sign in front of the amount (e.g. -$385.25) it means you have fallen behind on payments.

Frequently asked questions

How do I know if my account has been paid in full?

When you log into My accounts, your account balance is shown on the right of the screen. If you have paid off the account debt in full, the balance will be $0.00.

What is a rechargeable repairs account?

This account includes any repair charges that a Housing tenant is liable for.

What is a sundry account?

This account is for charges that are not related to rent, water, tenant liability or former tenancy charges, e.g. court costs.

What is a former tenancy debt account?

This account includes any charges from a previous Housing tenancy. It includes charges that you are responsible for like unpaid rent, water charges or repairs.

If I make a payment using one of the payment options, will it show straight away in my account?

No. It may take up to three business days for the payment to be processed and appear in the relevant account.

What does the negative sign (e.g. -$125.35) in front of my balance mean?

This means your account is in debit and you are behind on payments. You can make a payment using one of the options at the bottom of the My accounts screen. Remember to allow up to three business days for a payment that you make to be processed and reflected in your Housing Online account.

Payment options include:

- Credit card
- Australia Post Billpay

What are the charges in the My accounts screen?

Charges means that your account has been billed the amounts owing for rent, water consumption, repairs etc.

What are the payments in the My accounts screen?

These show the payments you have made for costs associated with your tenancy for rent, water consumption, repairs, etc.

What does the 'Load more' button do?

This button at the bottom of the My accounts screen gives you the option to view additional transactions. Each time you click the button, 25 more transactions will be displayed.

If you have fewer than 25 transactions in your account, the button will not be displayed.

Are the account transactions listed in Housing Online different from my quarterly statement?

The transactions in Housing Online are listed in order from the most recent to the oldest, whereas the transactions in your quarterly statements are listed in the reverse order, from oldest to most recent.

Although the order is different, the transaction amounts and dates are the same.

What is the 'Download Account Statement' button for?

This button will allow you to download a printable PDF version of your Housing account statements.
